EU long-term residence permit

Issue of an EU long-term residence permit

Prerequisites

- Possession of a residence title for 5 years

You must

- have lived in Germany for at least 5 years
- have had a residence title (visa, residence permit, settlement permit) without interruption
- and must have a valid residence title at present.

In case of specific residence titles, for instance a residence permit on humanitarian grounds or for the purpose of study or training, no EU long-term residence permit may, however, be issued.

- Proof of Income

- You must have a stable and regular income which is sufficient to maintain yourself and the members of your family.
- You must be covered by a statutory health insurance or must have taken out a private health insurance for an indefinite period or to be automatically renewed in the same scope as the statutory health insurance.

Proof of sufficient income to sustain oneself may also be provided by the spouse or same-sex civil partner in the event of marital or civil partnership cohabitation. In this event, both spouses or same-sex civil partners must, however, appear in person.

- Sufficient knowledge of German

- Basic knowledge of the legal and social system in Germany

- Main residence in Berlin

- No criminal record

Even fines may prevent the granting of a permanent settlement permit.

- Adequate pension plan

When reaching the age of 67, you must have a provision for old age which covers your maintenance needs. For applications in 2022, the following applies:

- You have either built up pension rights by paying contributions to the statutory German Pension Fund (normally for at least 60 months) or to another insurance or pension institution entitling you to comparable benefits, or
- you receive a monthly cash benefit of at least 926.00 euros from a private pension or life insurance, or
- you, as a self-employed person, will have assets of at least 195,104.00 euros.

The proofs of entitlement to pension schemes may also be provided by the spouse or same-sex partner in the event of marital or civil partnership cohabitation.

Documents required

- Application

Please file an informal written application. Please enclose with your application copies of the documents specified in the section "Documents required". You will either receive an invitation for a personal interview or a notification of charges.

- Valid passport
