Residence permit to seek for a job following a stay in Germany

After completing study, training, professional recognition or research activity in Germany, a residence permit is issued upon application to search for gainful employment (employment or self-employment).

The residence permit is intended for the following cases:

- after successfully completing a degree with a residence permit according to § 16b or § 16c Residence Act,
- after completion of the research activity with a residence permit according to § 18d or § 18f Residence Act,
- after successful completion of a qualified vocational training with a residence permit according to Section 16a of the Residence Act,
- after the establishment of the equivalence of the professional qualification or the issuance of a professional practice permit in German territory with a temporary residence permit under Article 16d of the German Residence Act
- after successful completion of an assistant or helper training in a state-recognized or similarly regulated training profession in the health and care sector.

The residence permit is usually issued for 18 months and entitles the holder to take up any gainful employment.

An extension of the residence permit for more than 18 months for the purpose of further job search is not possible. A new residence permit can only be issued for a different purpose of stay.

Procedure:

1. Carry out the online application.

- Please have all the necessary documents ready for this in PDF format if possible. However, you can also still photograph and upload the documents during the application process using your smartphone or tablet. The following file formats are accepted: PDF, JPG, JPEG, and PNG. The total size of your files must not exceed 100 MB. A single file must be a maximum of 7 MB in size.

contact you as soon as possible. Where necessary, we will request further documents.
