Gastronomic trade - apply for a permission for a special occasion

If you wish to serve alcoholic beverages on a temporary commercial basis as part of a special event that is open to the general public or a specific group of people, you must apply for a licence in accordance with the Restaurant Act. The prerequisite is always that there is a special occasion of short duration: this could be, for example, celebrations, anniversaries or similar occasions. A licence is granted under simplified conditions. However, it is only valid temporarily and is limited in time to the duration and location of the event.

If, on the other hand, you wish to operate a business serving alcohol on a permanent basis or for a longer period of time (usually more than 4 weeks), you will generally need a licence for the restaurant trade (see 'Further information'). A licence for the restaurant trade can also be applied for and granted on a temporary basis.

A permit is also required in Berlin if you hold a travelling trade licence. Regardless of the permit discussed here and depending on your offering, you may have to fulfil additional registration and permit requirements, for example in accordance with the Trade Regulation Act.

Procedure:

1. If you wish to open a restaurant business (serving alcohol) that requires a licence as part of a special event, you must apply for a restaurant licence before starting your business. The application can be submitted online. Please fill out the application form completely, upload the required documents and submit it.
2. The competent authority will review your information and documents and request any missing evidence if necessary. You will receive instructions on how to proceed and will be informed of the processing status by email.
3. If all requirements are met and the necessary documents are available, you will receive a fee notice and the permit by post. If not all requirements are met or the necessary documents are not available, your application will be rejected and a fee will be charged. In this case, you can read the reason for the rejection in the notice from the responsible authority.
