Gaming devices with the possibility of winning - confirmation of the suitability of the place of installation

Anyone wishing to set up commercial money and goods gambling machines must first obtain a permit from the competent authority for the commercial enterprise (see " More Information").

The equipment may only be set up at locations whose suitability has previously been confirmed in writing by the responsible authority for the place of installation. You need confirmation of suitability for each installation location. For the suitability of the place of installation, please note:

Money and goods gambling machines may only be set up in:

- Rooms of licensed restaurant establishments where beverages or prepared food are served for consumption on the spot. This does not apply to drinking halls, ice-cream parlours, dairy parlours and establishments in which the serving of food or drink plays only a minor role.
- in accommodation establishments,
- in gambling halls or similar enterprises, or
- in betting offices of licensed bookmakers, unless sports betting is brokered in the betting office.

Gambling machines may not be set up in:

- Establishments at public festivals, shooting festivals or similar events, fairs or special markets,
- establishments on sports grounds, in sports halls, dance schools, bathing establishments, sports or youth facilities or youth hostels as well as establishments which, by their nature or in fact, are predominantly frequented by children or young people,
- in restaurants not requiring a licence (e.g. in restaurants not serving alcohol).

By way of derogation from this, amusement machines may also be set up:

- at public festivals, shooting festivals or similar events, fairs or special markets,

In principle, a maximum of two money or goods gambling machines may be set up per establishment.

In gambling halls or similar enterprises where no alcoholic beverages are offered for consumption on the spot, a maximum of one gambling device may be set up per twelve square metres of floor space, but no more than eight gambling devices in total.
