Recognition of foreign professional qualifications - Public Servants - career field of Justice and Correctional Services

The exercise of sovereign powers and the fulfilment of state tasks in Germany are predominantly carried out by persons who are employed as civil servants in a special public-law service and loyalty relationship.

The following career paths are possible in the career specialisation of justice and correctional services:

- Career branch of the judicial guard service: performing security and control duties, settling conflicts in the courts and law enforcement agencies, bringing prisoners to the courtroom and supervising them at court hearings, processing incoming and outgoing mail.
- Career branch of the general prison service: e.g. supervision, care and accompaniment of prisoners in correctional institutions, admission controls.
- Career branch of the nursing service at correctional institutions: medical treatment of prisoners, supervision, care and supply of prisoners.
- Career branch of the work service at correctional institutions: vocational instruction or training and further education of prisoners assigned to work.
- Career branch of the general judicial service: contact point for the public, activities in the offices of the courts and prosecution authorities, processing mail, creating and keeping court files and files of the prosecution authorities, calculating and monitoring deadlines, correspondence, taking minutes, serving and monitoring decisions, calculating court costs, granting access to files.
- Bailiff service: among other things, enforcement of court judgments and orders (seizures, executions, auctions). You work independently, but you are always under the supervision of the courts. You have your own office and can arrange your own appointments.
- Track of judicial officers: e.g. conducting forced sales of real estate, land register matters, probate proceedings, applications for protection against eviction, monitoring insolvency proceedings, calculating court costs, managing a court. At the public prosecutor's office, you are responsible in particular for the execution of sentences.
- Career branch of the public prosecutor's service: e.g. you take on tasks of the public prosecutor's office before the district courts (from the areas of bodily injury, insult, false suspicion, traffic offences and property offences as well as fine cases).

In the federal state of Berlin, employment under public servant status is tied by law to the possession of certain professional qualifications. If you have acquired professional qualifications abroad that enable you to work in the public service there, you must have these qualifications recognised in Berlin (as a career qualification) in order to be employed in the state of Berlin in a public servant position corresponding to your previous profession. To do this, the equivalence of your professional qualification with a career qualification in the state of Berlin must be established.

Procedure:

1. You submit an application for recognition of your professional qualification as a career qualification for the career specialisation of the Justice and Correctional Services; for one of the above-mentioned career branches of the State of Berlin to the Senate Department responsible for Justice as the competent authority or to the Single Point of Contact. You will receive a confirmation of receipt.
2. The competent authority will determine whether your qualification can be assigned to the qualification for the career specialisation and to a career segment of the career paths of the Land Berlin.
3. If the qualification can be assigned, the competent authority compares the preliminary and training requirements for the career qualification with your qualification certificates. If the authority determines that there is a qualification deficit, it must be checked whether this can be compensated for. In doing so, it must be examined whether the knowledge, skills and competences acquired following the acquisition of the qualification within the scope of your previous professional practice or through lifelong learning, which have been formally recognised as valid for this purpose by a relevant body, can compensate for the deficit in whole or in part.
4. In the case of a qualification deficit that cannot be compensated, recognition is dependent on passing an aptitude test or successfully completing an adaptation course.
5. The decision on the application shall be made in writing. With the successful completion of the recognition procedure, the qualification for the career branch and the respective career segment is acquired. It is possible that the career qualification is only recognised for certain tasks or offices (partial access).
6. If the requirements for the recognition of the qualification are not met, you will receive a decision against which you have legal remedies according to the Administrative Court Code (objection procedure, if necessary legal action).
7. Recognition for a career branch of the Berlin state service is not associated with the placement of a job; you can apply for advertised positions.

For further information, please contact the relevant office.
