Applying for recognition of foreign professional qualifications as a teacher

The task of teachers is to prepare and conduct lessons at different types of schools. In Berlin these are

- Primary schools
- Integrated secondary schools and grammar schools
- Vocational schools and
- Special schools

The school types can be called or divided differently depending on the federal state.

Teachers teach and educate children, young people and adults of different ages. During lessons, they impart knowledge and subject-related skills to pupils. Teachers also encourage independent thinking and working. Education includes encouraging and supporting pupils in professional and personal matters as well as imparting socially accepted behaviour and value systems.

The profession of 'teacher' is regulated by the state in Germany. You must fulfil special qualifications and requirements. You can then obtain a 'qualification for a teaching profession'. With the 'Befähigung für ein Lehramt' you can work as a teacher in Germany.

You can also work as a teacher (m/f/d) in Berlin with a professional qualification from abroad. To do this, you must have your professional qualification recognised.

Procedure

1. If you would like to work as a teacher with a qualification from another country, you must first have your qualification recognised. You can only submit the application online. Please complete the application and send all the necessary documents with it.
2. The competent authority will check your details and ask if anything is still missing. You will receive instructions on the further procedure and will be informed of the status of your application by e-mail.
3. If all conditions are met and all documents are available, you will receive a decision and, if applicable, a fee invoice by post. If not all conditions or documents have been met, your application will be rejected. In this case, you can also read the reason for the rejection in the notification from the competent authority.
