Arms possession card (green) – standard

An arms possession card (APC) is required for purchasing or owning firearms subject to approval. Additional weapons can be entered if you already have an arms possession card. Permission to acquire a weapon is granted for a period of one year, permission to own a weapon is usually granted indefinitely

The green arms possession card permits the acquisition and possession of

- multi-shot pistols and revolvers,
- long rifles such as self-loading rifles, semi-automatic shotguns, repeating rifles, repeating shot guns, single loader guns
- and signal weapons.

You need to apply for an arms possession card (green) if you wish to acquire (buy) a weapon. You are then issued an arms possession card and a purchasing permit (a so-called preliminary entry) is entered.

- Sports marksmen and markswomen are normally allowed to acquire no more than two weapons within six months.
- Important note for hunters: You can apply for purchase authorisations for handguns here. Do not use this form if you are a hunter and have acquired a long gun, its parts or silencer that requires a licence, but use the 'Acquisition notification' form. Use this form to apply for the issue of a firearms licence (green) or entry in an existing firearms licence within 14 days of purchase.
- Anyone who inherits weapons and wishes to keep them must apply for an arms possession card (green) or have the weapon entered on a previously issued APC (deadline must be observed). Inherited ammunition must be reported to authorised individuals or the police without delay.

Ammunition

A permit is also required for buying and owning the ammunition for the registered firearms. You can apply for permission to acquire ammunition at the same time as applying for an arms possession card (green). An additional ammunition acquisition permit is only required if you wish to acquire or own ammunition for weapons that are not entered on your arms possession card (see "More information").

Note

If you do not only wish to own a weapon but to also carry it in public, you will also need a firearms licence.
