Building Chamber - Apply for entry in the list of engineers authorised to submit building documents

Engineers working in the construction industry with sufficient practical professional experience are authorised to submit building proposals. For engineers working in Berlin, membership of the Berlin Building Chamber is mandatory

Engineers authorised to submit building documents are entitled to prepare building documents for the construction and alteration of buildings that do not require a procedure. Such building documents must be submitted when submitting building applications. The building inspectorate checks whether engineers are entered in the list of engineers authorised to submit building documents of the Berlin Building Chamber and are therefore authorised to prepare and submit building documents.

Persons who are established in another member state of the European Union or in a state deemed equivalent under the law of the European Communities as persons authorised to submit building documents are authorised to submit building documents without being entered in the list of persons authorised to submit building documents as long as certain evidence can be submitted to the Building Chamber.
