Insurance consultant or insurance intermediary - register for the expert knowledge examination

In order to be able to broker or advise on insurance, you must prove your professional qualification. In general, this proof is provided by successfully passing the expert knowledge examination at the Chamber of Industry and Commerce (IHK). The examination for insurance consultants and insurance intermediaries is the same in terms of content.

Written and practical part of the examination

The examination consists of a written and a practical part. Participation in the practical part of the examination requires passing the written part.

- After you have successfully registered, you can only resign under the conditions of the respective Chamber of Industry and Commerce.
- In the written part of the examination, you must demonstrate the necessary legal and technical knowledge, for example regarding consumer rights and technical terms. You pass the written examination if you achieve at least 50 percent of the achievable points in four of the five areas and at least 30 percent in the remaining part.
- In the practical part, you have to conduct a simulated customer counselling interview. You have passed the practical examination if you achieve at least 50 percent of the achievable points.
- You can be exempted from the practical part if you have a licence as a financial investment broker, fee-based financial investment advisor or real estate loan broker.
- As an alternative to the examination of expert knowledge, you can also prove your expert knowledge for the permit with certain professional qualifications from the insurance and finance sector.

Procedure

1. You register for the expert knowledge examination at a chamber of industry and commerce of your choice using a registration form or online.
2. In the registration form, you select an examination date and indicate whether you would like to take a full examination, if you can be exempted from the practical part of the examination or if you only want to take the practical examination as a repeat examination.
3. You indicate that you are being examined as an insurance intermediary or as an insurance advisor and whether you would like to be practically examined in the elective subject "property and asset insurance" or "pension provision".
4. You will receive an invitation to the examination from the Chamber of Industry and Commerce with further information and a fee notification.
5. If you pass the exam, you will usually receive your certificate by post within 1-2 weeks after the exam. If you do not pass the examination, you will receive a notification of failure, in which the possibility of repeating the examination is pointed out. The examination can be repeated as often as you wish.

Prerequisites
