Real estate loan agent - register for the expert knowledge examination

To be able to mediate real estate loans, you must prove your professional qualification. As a rule, this proof is provided by successfully passing the expert knowledge examination at the Chamber of Industry and Commerce (IHK).

Written and practical part of the examination

The examination consists of a written and a practical part. Participation in the practical part of the examination requires passing the written part.

- In the written part of the exam you have to prove the necessary legal and technical knowledge, for example regarding consumer rights and technical terms.
- In the practical part, you have to conduct a simulated customer counselling interview.
- You can be exempted from the practical part if you have a licence as a financial investment agent, fee-based financial investment advisor, insurance agent or insurance advisor.
- As an alternative to the examination of expert knowledge, you can also prove your expert knowledge for the permit with certain professional qualifications from the insurance and finance sector.

Procedure

1. You register for the expert knowledge examination at a Chamber of Industry and Commerce of your choice using a registration form or online.
2. In the registration you select an examination date and indicate whether you would like to take a full examination, can be exempted from the practical examination part or only want to take the practical examination as a resit examination.
3. If the registration is complete and received on time and there are still free places, you will receive an invitation to the examination from the Chamber of Industry and Commerce with further information and a fee notice.
4. If you pass the exam, you will usually receive your certificate by post within 1-2 weeks after the exam.
5. If you do not pass the examination, you will receive a notice of failure, which will indicate the possibility of repeating the examination. The exam can be repeated as often as you wish.
