Weapons legislation – Applying for a weapons trading permit

A weapons trading permit is required if you are buying or selling firearms or ammunition commercially or as a self-employed activity in the context of a business enterprise. The weapons trading permit can be limited to particular types of firearms and ammunition.

Anyone who buys, offers for sale, accepts or collects orders, rents out, lends or arranges for purchase, sale or rental of firearms or ammunition is considered to be operating a weapons trading business.

The permit expires if the activity is not taken up within a year of the permit's issuance or if the activity was not performed for a year. Deadlines may be extended if special reasons apply.

If the weapons trading activities are to be carried out by a representative or if a person is instructed to manage a branch establishment or a dependent subsidiary, a separate representation permit must be applied for for such persons (see "More information").

Prerequisites

- Intention to trade firearms or ammunition

- Minimum age: usually 25 years

By way of derogation, a few specific exceptions apply:

If a personal suitability certificate is presented the minimum age is 18 instead (§6 section 3 WaffG)

- Reliability

- Personal suitability

The qualification test is taken before the Chamber of Industry and Commerce.

- The qualification test is not required if you fulfil the requirements for registration of a gunsmithy in the register of craftspeople.

- Trade registration (Gewerbeanmeldung)

- Suitable safe weapons storage facility

The minimum standard for storage of weapons for which a licence is required by a weapons dealer is a class I safety cabinet. Additional safety measures may be determined from case to case.

- Natural person or legal entity

The permit can be issued for a natural person or a legal entity. The natural persons who are authorised to represent legal entities must provide evidence that they fulfil the requirements.
