Weapons legislation – Applying for/changing a licence for operating a mobile shooting range

Approval from the competent weapons authority is required for operating a mobile shooting range. You will also need permission if you wish to make any significant changes to the condition or type of use of a mobile shooting range.

A mobile shooting range is a facility that is used for

- sports shooting,
- other types shooting practice using firearms,
- firearms testing, or
- shooting firearms for entertainment purposes.

The operating licence authorises its holder to establish a shooting business. At the same time, it is specified,

- with which types of guns,
- from what distance and
- for what purpose

shooting may take place.

Furthermore, the operating licence is linked to safety requirements that must be observed by the holder of the licence or their representatives (so-called range guards).

Prerequisites

- The shooting range is mobile
A different application is needed for operating a stationary shooting range (see “More information”).
- Minimum age: 18 years
- Reliability
