Gastronomic trade - apply for a deputy's permit

If you wish to operate your gastronomy trade requiring a licence through a deputy, you require a deputy licence. This is issued to the licence owner of the restaurant for a specific person who is to act as a deputy and can be issued for a limited period of time.

Procedure:

1. If you wish to operate a gastronomy trade requiring a licence ( with serving alcohol) as a deputy, you must apply for a deputy licence before starting the activity. The application can be submitted online. Please complete the application in full, upload the required documents and submit it.
2. The responsible authority will check your details and documents and request any missing documents. You will receive instructions on the further procedure and will be informed of the processing status by e-mail.
3. If all requirements are met and the necessary documents have been submitted, you will receive a fee notice and the permit by post. If not all requirements or necessary documents have been met, your application will be rejected and a fee will be charged. In this case, you can find the reason for the rejection in the notification from the responsible authority.

Prerequisites

- Gastronomy permit of the proprietor
The restaurant owner must have a valid gastronomy permit or apply for one in due time.
- Personal reliability
The reliability is checked on the basis of various proofs. For this purpose, the applicant must provide information from the Federal Central Register (certificate of good conduct) and information from the Central Trade Register.
- Expertise of the deputy
Proof of undergone training regarding relevant knowledge about food safety regulations.
